A MONTHLY NEWSPAPER FOR THE STUDENTS AND BY THE STUDENTS

Bangalore, August 2017

CMM/BHE/DECL/NPP - 230 / 10 / 2033

MENTOR'S DAY AND 25 GLORIOUS YEARS AS CHAIRMAN, NHEI - 7TH JULY

7th July, 2017 was celebrated with great pomp and show as it was not just our Chairman's birthday but it was also a landmark for him. In 1992, Dr Mohan Manghnani took over as Chairman of New Horizon Educational Institution. It has been 25 years since that day and the institution has grown with leaps and bounds.

The day was marked with elaborate festivities with everyone right from the Pre Primary level to the Professional level participating enthusiastically to make the day an even more special one for our Chairman and the New Horizon family.

The Pre Primary children began the programme with various dances to a medley of songs. The dance become even more lively when the teachers jointed in and danced along with the children adding the extra zeal in the performance. Happy birthday wishes arrived on a platter of cup cakes, each with a letter on it, together reading "Happy Birthday Sir". From the conception of ideas to the final execution, it was a delight to see the students and teachers working tirelessly with just one thought in their mind - to make the day memorable for many years to come.

TALENT'S DAY – UKG

27th June saw our young UKG children showcasing their talent. It was a delight to see some of the usually quiet children coming forward and showing off their talents in some form or the other. Children displayed their talents by playing musical instruments, creating a picture using vegetables, alphabet art, solving problems using abacus, identifying the names of states through short forms used in car registration plates, spellings of various fruits and vegetables, making a wristband using rubber bands, origami, gymnastics, fireless cooking, descriptions of the solar system and the map of India. No wonder it is rightly called 'Hidden Talent'.

FANCY DRESS COMPETITION – LKG

The children filled with pride came to school with excitement, wearing the costumes that their parents had made only for them. The LKG classes were filled with children dressed as washing machine, vacuum cleaner, fridge, microwave oven, ambulance, Jack in the box, Minnie Mouse, Lord Narsimhan, Goddess Saraswati with a hand-made lotus, Raavan, Jhansi ki Rani, Bahubali and Devasena and many other unique costumes. It was indeed an exciting day for the children and a tough day for the judges. This is truly an event where the participation and involvement of the parents is seen in the highest degree.

3. "Book Keeper" is the only word in the English language with three consecutive double letters.
4. The word "listen" contains the same letters as the word "silent".

FIELD TRIP – UKG

A field trip is a much awaited outing for our little ones. The UKG children arrived in school that day with an extra zeal of excitement. The bus journey was enjoyable with the children singing, happy in the knowledge that they have a fun day ahead. At Cubbon Park, they had a great time on the slides, swings and see-saws. The weather seemed perfect as the little ones jogged around the park for some time. Soon they were all ready to sit and feast on all the healthy food packed for them. The return journey on the bus was a quieter one. It was a tiring but enjoyable day. A welcome change from the routine of a classroom session indeed!

INTERNATIONAL DAY OF YOGA

In commemoration of the third International Day of Yoga, New Horizon Public School organized a special Yoga class for the students of Std VII to X. Dr Indumathi from the Art of Living organization conducted the session.

SPIN A YARN

IN THE YEAR 2117

Hand in hand, Tina and Amelia, clasped their hands tightly to reassure themselves that they were by each other's side. Walking ahead in absolute darkness with no idea what was about to happen, was really frightening. At least I have my best friend by my side, thought Tina.

They walked on, scared but curious about what was going to happen. After walking for a couple of minutes, just as Tina put her right foot in front of her left, she realized that she couldn't feel anything under it. "Tina am I", Amelia started to say, when both the girls screamed as they plunged down into what felt like utter darkness.

The next thing they knew there was bright sunshine everywhere. They were blinded for a few seconds. Then they fell on something that felt soft.

After the moment of blindness passed, they realized that they were floating on air bags in a flowing river. A soft hissing sound was heard. Amelia looked down at the side of her air bag. Tina followed suit. There was a hole in the sides of their air bags, that got bigger and bigger with every passing moment. Realizing what was about to happen, Tina and Amelia had just enough time to look at each other, before they moved forward at a great speed.

Their screams pierced the air, and it got louder as they saw the approaching edge of the waterfall.

When they reached the edge, the force propelled them forward, and they plunged down and fell into the water. They swam up to the surface. Before they could catch their breath, they were pulled in by a vacuum like force back into the water. Each of the girls travelled through a glass tube with water outside the walls of the tube. They were sucked in by a force pulling them down. Then each of them landed on a chair. The next moment a dryer – like machine dried them up in a jiffy. A gap appeared below their chairs, and they plunged down further into different rooms. Amelia and Tina were in different rooms.

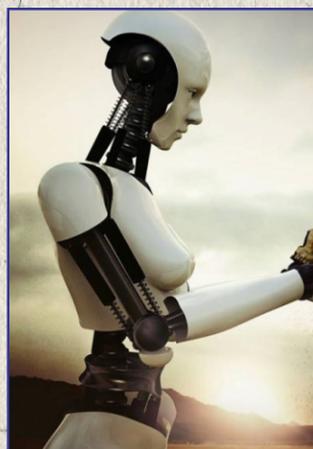

Tina found herself in a plain white room, with a table right in front of her. It had a stack of papers and two pens on it. There was a clock on the wall in front of her. She looked at the clock. One minute had already gone. She began to write the test.

After writing for what felt like two hours, she stopped writing as she was done. She looked at the clock. There were still five minutes left. She decided to rest for some time.

The stack of papers had contained question papers for all the subjects she had learnt at school along with answer sheets.

The piercing noise of an alarm ringing brought Tina back to her senses.

The next thing she knew, a robot came to her side and injected the Truth Serum into her veins. At first, she began to panic, but she told herself, "Amelia's right on the other side having the very same treatment." The robot had a tab in its hand, that contained questions which had to be answered truthfully by the subjects. Tina slowly blacked out. Tina woke up to find herself lying next to Amelia. There were a dozen men in uniforms standing next to them, all holding guns in their hands, which were pointing at them.

"It's over now, isn't it?", mumbled Amelia as she woke up. Till now they had hardly spoken, so Tina found it hard to find the right words that would get them out of the current situation. She noticed that out of the twelve men standing in their military uniforms around them, there was one older man who looked in his fifties.

"Oh, how are you doing Uncle Russell?", she said.

"It is a very mean way to welcome your niece to camp with your men pointing their guns right at my face, don't you think?", she said.

The man's face was blank.

She got up on her feet, and so did Amelia. The men put their guns down and made way for them to walk. Now that there were no faces of the tall men to obscure her view, Tina could see that there were tents all around them. A little ahead of them, she saw the edge of the cliff.

"So you're Juni, then?", asked the man.

"Of course! How can you not recognize me!", she replied. Now she was running out of words.

"And the other girl is?", he asked. That was it. She looked at Amelia and mouthed 'Run!'

The two of them ran, at full speed with the men chasing them. Tina guessed they didn't shoot because they knew where the two of them were heading, but they were confused as to why. They reached the edge of the cliff, and without thinking twice, jumped. They fell at least a hundred feet. Neither of the girls letting out a noise, until a shimmering substance appeared and they plunged into it and blacked out.

Tina woke up to find herself lying in bed next to Amelia. Amelia was already up and about, and with a wide smile on her face, she said to Tina, "Its over."

They had completed their Aptitude Test, which would tell them whether they could go to the field of knowledge, sports, military or spywork. If they were fit for none of those, they could go to the field of entertainment.

A TRUE FRIEND

A voyaging ship was wrecked during a storm at sea and only two of the men on it were able to swim to a small island.

The two survivors who had been good friends, not knowing what else to do, agreed that they had no other recourse but to pray to God. However, to find out whose prayer was more powerful, they agreed to divide the territory between them and stay on opposite sides of the island.

The first thing they prayed for was food. The next morning, the first man saw a fruit-bearing tree on his side of the land, and he was able to eat its fruit. The other man's piece of land remained barren.

After a week, the first man was lonely and he decided to pray for a wife. The next day, another ship was wrecked, and the only survivor was a woman who swam to his side of the land. On the other side of the island, there was nothing.

Soon the first man prayed for a house, some clothes and more food. The next day, like magic, all of these were given to him. However, the second man still had nothing.

Finally, the first man prayed for a ship, so that he and his wife could leave the island. In the morning, he found a ship docked at his side of the island. The first man boarded the ship with his wife and decided to leave the second man on the island.

He considered the other man unworthy of receiving God's blessings, since none of his prayers had been answered. As the ship was about to leave, the first man heard a voice from heaven booming, "Why are you leaving your companion on the island?"

"My blessings are mine alone, since I was the one who prayed for them," the first man answered. "His prayers were all unanswered and so he does not deserve anything."

"You are mistaken!" the voice rebuked him. "He had only one prayer, which I answered. If not for that, you would not have received any of my blessings."

"Tell me," the first man asked the voice, "What did he pray for?"

"He prayed that all your prayers be answered."

New Horizon Pre University College organized an orientation programme for I PUC students on 17 June, 2017 at the institutional premises. The programme was divided into two sessions for both the Science and Commerce streams. The Department of Commerce hosted the morning session while the Department of Science hosted the afternoon session.

I PUC ORIENTATION PROGRAMME -2017

The Principal then addressed the gathering. The motto, "You are the author of your destiny," was given a new impetus when the Principal suggested four hours of qualitative study for each student in order to balance his academic activities in the required manner. The expectations of each parent and the endeavours of the institution towards holistic development of each student were the chief highlights of the speech. Presentation of the academic proceedings, college guidelines, and reports of continuous and comprehensive evaluation, importance of discipline, time management, parental support and student involvement on Open Day Meet were given a clear insight by the Principal.

The faculty members were introduced by the Principal. They were also invited to express their views. The appreciative words and support of the parents proved their cooperation towards the new beginning.

The programme concluded with a formal vote of thanks followed by the National Anthem. The smiles of the new entrants proved beyond doubt that they enjoyed every bit of the programme.

ACHIEVERS DAY 2017

"The key to realizing a dream is to focus not on success but significance and then even the small steps and little victories along your path will take on greater meaning".

24th July, 2017 was celebrated as the Achievers Day at New Horizon PU College, Kasturinagar to recognize and acknowledge the efforts of the students who excelled in their II PUC board exam.

The students were felicitated in the presence of their proud parents and teachers. A comparative overview of their percentage over the years was shared by the Principal.

In his speech, the Principal lauded the achievers by appreciating their hard work. He urged them to keep giving their best in each endeavour so that they can leave a 'legacy' to inspire others. He said that those who have won accolades are in no way different from the others. They have become achievers because of the influence of their teachers and parents. He concluded his speech with a hope that many more students will do better in the next academic year.

113 students were felicitated. Anjali Nair of II PUC Advanced qualified for IIT. Eight students qualified in JEE Mains.

The event concluded with the students and parents expressing their whole hearted appreciation and positive feedback for the special day of their life.
