

NEW HORIZON CUP 2025 – A CELEBRATION OF SPORTING SPIRIT

"Sports do not just build character — they reveal it."

The State-Level Inter-School Horizon Cup 2025, hosted by New Horizon Educational Institutions, was a grand celebration of athletic excellence, teamwork, and sportsmanship. The week-long tournament brought together talented teams from schools across Karnataka, filling the air with energy, enthusiasm, and healthy competition.

From powerful serves to breathtaking goals and nail-biting finishes, every match reflected the determination, skill, and perseverance of young athletes who gave their all on the field. The Horizon Cup not only celebrated victory but also the spirit of participation, resilience, and unity.

We are immensely proud of all our participants who represented New Horizon Public School with dedication and grace. Their passion and sportsmanship truly made the Horizon Cup 2025 an unforgettable experience.

CAREER COUNSELLING

Career counselling plays a vital role in helping students make informed decisions about their future. In today's fast-changing world, students are often faced with countless career options, and choosing the right one can be confusing.

New Horizon Public School organised a Career Fair at New Horizon Knowledge Park. Students learnt about various academic streams, professional courses, and career opportunities available after school.

The session began with a series of informative talks from distinguished guest speakers and experienced professionals from diverse fields who shared their valuable insights on emerging career trends, skill development, and the importance of passion and perseverance in achieving success. They spoke about the latest innovations and the growth in the field of Artificial Intelligence, explaining how AI is changing industries and creating new job roles for the future.

The fair concluded with a campus tour, where the students explored different stalls and had interactive sessions that showcased various career options.

FIELD TRIP

School field visits are more than fun outings. They build camaraderie among students, spark curiosity and promote experiential learning through direct observation and participation. The little learners of Nursery visited Ratnadeep Supermarket to learn about community helpers, their duties and how to behave in a public place. The students of LKG visited New Horizon Gurukul Preschool to explore and learn through observation and interaction in a new environment. The students of UKG visited The Jawaharlal Nehru Planetarium to explore the wonders of our solar system. There was one thing common among all these young learners — they shared excitement, curiosity and a sense of togetherness throughout their journeys.

NATIONAL UNITY DAY

National Unity Day is observed on October 31st, commemorating the birth anniversary of Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, who played a pivotal role in uniting the princely states with the rest of India to form one nation. To spread the message of unity and harmony, the Pre-primary learners of New Horizon Public School came together to form a vibrant unity chain wearing orange caps and proudly showcasing their love for their school and the beautiful spirit of togetherness.

KALA UTSAV

This year, New Horizon Public School Pre-Primary Division proudly hosted its first-ever Interschool Competition, 'Kala Utsav' on 5th November 2025. It was more than an event. It was a celebration of the vibrant rhythm of art and the boundless energy of creativity. The event provided a wonderful platform for young learners to showcase their confidence, presentation skills, expression, and synchronisation. On this day, the teachers and staff of New Horizon Public School- Pre-Primary warmly welcomed the 258 enthusiastic participants from 10 different schools, whose tiny footsteps filled the campus with joy and excitement. A range of age-appropriate competitions, such as Tiny Tunes Fiesta, Cosmic Colours, Aqua Artists, Nritya Rangmanch, Mitr Katha, and Nature Collage, were conducted, each highlighting that art is not only a form of expression but also a joyful means of learning and self-discovery. The event concluded on a joyous note, marked by smiles, applause, and words of encouragement from the judges and teachers. The children were appreciated for their wholehearted participation and brilliant efforts, making 'Kala Utsav 2025' a memorable celebration of talent.

KARNATAKA RAJYOTSAVA

The dawn of Karnataka Rajyotsava at New Horizon Public School unfolded with a sense of pride that swept across the campus like a golden ray of the morning sun on 14th November. At 8:00 a.m., the school quadrangle transformed into a vibrant tapestry of culture and patriotism, setting the stage for a celebration that truly mirrored the spirit of our state. The ceremony commenced with the voices of the school choir, who rendered "Jaya Bharata Jananiya Tanujate", the majestic state song of Karnataka. Following this, a young talent from the Primary Section stepped into the shoes of Sri Krishnadevaraya, bringing to life the grandeur of the Vijayanagara empire. This was followed by a graceful Bharatanatyam performance to the soulful composition "Kalladare Naanu." Students of the Primary Section danced with the elegance of flowing rivers and the precision of temple sculptures. The momentum rose as the school's very own student-led ensemble, "Bengaluru Rahasiyam," took center stage. Comprising talented dancers from Grades 7, 8, and 9, the troupe delivered a mesmerizing Ballet-Bharatanatyam fusion to the dynamic pieces "Chandrachooda" and "Bramhakalasha." As the celebrations approached their finale, the school united once again in reverence as the State Song, National Song, and finally the National Anthem echoed across the quadrangle, each note resonating with patriotic fervor. The Rajyotsava celebration at New Horizon Public School was not merely an event, it was a tribute, an ode, and a glowing reflection of Karnataka's timeless culture and our school's unwavering commitment to excellence.

ANDAMAN DIARIES

Some trips stay with you long after you return. My journey to the Andaman Islands was not just about beaches or sight seeing — it was about living with nature, breathing in the ocean air, and realizing how peaceful life can be away from the city noise. Those five days were one of the best days of my life. How it all started was that me and my parents were arguing about where to go for a trip as we had not travelled for a long time. My father wanted to stay at home, my mother wanted to go to Kashmir but I wanted to go to some beach. We had visited Goa many times so we did not want to go there again. We thought of going to Pondicherry or Mumbai but then since we had to come back soon, it was not possible. And then the idea of going to one of the Indian islands struck my father. After a lot of research, we decided to go to the Andamans that too only the south of it as in the north there are many restrictions due to the existence of the tribes.

We started our journey on the 24th of September from Bangalore International Airport. We had a direct Air India flight from Bangalore to Port Blair (Veer Savarkar Airport). Day 1(Port Blair): We first went to our resort and had a small break. We then visited the Cellular Jail. It was huge. There are two lamps which burn 24/7 365 days, one dedicated to all the freedom fighters and one specially dedicated to Veer Savarkar for his leadership and contribution towards the freedom of the people locked in the jail. Our guide explained us that the people were brought here without them knowing and these people were key freedom fighters who were about to bring a freedom revolution and since British government could not control them in the mainland they were sent here. They wore clothes made of poor-quality fabric, they used to get 100 grams of porridge 3 times a day so that they stay weak and sea water to drink. We then saw the jail rooms which were 10 feet tall and 7 feet wide. They were very dark and had only one grilled opening on the top through which sunlight used to enter. We then saw the room in which they were galloped and when the lever was pulled the people were hanged 8 feet above the ground. The guide then told us that every morning the locked people were given tasks like taking out 30 gallons of oil from the coconuts manually which was very hard and it was the work which was usually done by a bull and even it could not complete 15 gallons per day. If they failed to do so, then they used to get lashings which were very painful.

We then went to the Corbyn's Cove Beach. It was dark even though it was only 5 in the evening. My sister and I had a lot of fun playing in the water. We then came back to the jail as there was a 'Light and Sound' show. They explained the whole story of how the Britishers treated the Indians, how they made them do all the painful work and how our freedom fighters escaped the terrible life of the Cellular jail. We then went back to our resort, had our dinner, and went to bed. Day 2(Havelock Island): The next morning, we woke up, took a bath, and went for breakfast. After that, we quickly left for the jetty as we had to take a cruise to our next destination, Havelock Island. We travelled on a cruise named Makruzz, which was an excellent experience, though quite cold. The journey took about two hours, and we all reached safely. After checking into our resort, we had lunch and then went to Radha Nagar Beach. However, we could not do any activities as it was raining heavily, so we returned to the resort and enjoyed our stay in the room playing games. Day 3(Havelock Island): The next day, we went to Elephant Beach by speed boat, as it is separated from Havelock Island. We did many activities there, such as snorkelling, dragon rides, pencil rides, sofa, jet skiing and more. After these activities we were drenched so we changed our clothes and had Maggi and chats from the nearby stalls. Even though it was only 4 in the evening we had to leave the Elephant beach as it comes under the reserve forest area and it had started to rain.

HUMAN RIGHTS

Human rights are the basic rights, freedom and protection that every person should have, just because they are human, regardless of race, gender, nationality, religion or social status. They are grounded in the belief that all people are born equal in dignity and worth. These include the right to live safely, freedom of speech, education, work, and participation in society without discrimination and to be treated fairly.

Too often taken for granted, human rights not only protect, but also bring joy, happiness and safety into daily life. They begin with us, with the small, everyday choices we make, from being considerate, speaking up against unfairness, and listening to those whose voices are often ignored.

This brings us to the thought of reinforcing the importance of securing the rights of people with disabilities, so that they can participate fully, equally and effectively with others. They are valuable members of society who deserve equal rights, respect, and opportunities.

Governments should make sure that public spaces, schools, transportation and workplaces are accessible to everyone. Individuals can help by showing kindness, patience and thoughtfulness, and by avoiding discrimination or pity. Simple actions like offering assistance when needed and encouraging their independence, can make a big difference. When Governments and individuals work together to support persons with disabilities, it will be a world that values diversity, equality and dignity for all. Unfortunately violations of human rights still occur worldwide in various forms. Laws, no doubt, must be fair and strict, but people also must stand up for each other. When we respect and defend each other's rights, we help build a fair world where everyone can live with peace and dignity.

Upholding human rights is not only a legal obligation but also a moral duty - one that guides us toward a more just and peaceful world. Human rights belong to everyone, including persons with disabilities. These rights ensure that all people are treated with dignity, fairness, and respect, no matter what their physical or mental abilities are. December being the month when the International Day of Persons with Disabilities and the Human Rights Day are celebrated, reflection on the above thoughts may help us become more caring individuals.
